MARKS AND SCRATCHES

As leather is a natural product from free ranging animals it is natural for there to be range marks and other marks associated with the harsh environment that Australian cattle, sheep and kangaroos live in. Suedes that are taken from the flesh side of the hide have less scratching and marks, but if you want strength and durability full grain leathers are the best.

COLOUR VARIATION

There may be some colour variation from order to order. This is beyond our control due to tanneries using many different breeds of bovine hides. Colours of products in this brochure may vary to actual material used, due to printing processes.

Hat trims are subject to change without notice.
